

Adenomyosis: A Reproductive disorder ?

Meet the experts

Date: 19-20 April, 2007

Scientific coordinator :

S. Gordts

Leuven Institute for Fertility and Embryology (L.I.F.E.)

Tiensevest 168, B-3000 Leuven, Belgium

lifeleuven@lifeleuven.be

Course coordinators

SIG reproductive surgery: S. Gordts

SIG endometriosis :Th. D' Hooghe, A. Bergqvist

Course description:

Course will concentrate upon adenomyosis and reproduction. How does adenomyosis interfere with reproduction? Is implantation impaired? Does infertile patients have a higher incidence of adenomyosis? Are hormonal and/or surgical treatments beneficial for reproductive outcome? Which are new treatment modalities?

Topics

Thursday 19 April 2007.:

Session1: Epidemiology and Pathophysiology

Session 2: Adenomyosis and uterine environment

Friday 20 April 2007.

Session 3: Imaging and adenomyosis

Session 4: Treatment modalities

Venue : Provinciehuis
Provincieplein 1,
B-3010 Leuven, Belgium